COUNSELOR'S CORNER

Welcome to the new school year 24-25. I'm Mrs. Wallace, the school counselor here at Hal Hutchens. We are excited about this new year and we hope you are as well. Here in the Counselor's Corner, I will share titles of social emotional lessons being taught during my time with your student(s). I will also share tips and happenings as it relates to school counseling and what the counseling department is doing to make your student's year emotionally healthy and happy.

FEATURED COLUMN

COUNSELOR'S PERSPECTIVE

School attendance is a key component to a successful school career. Please ensure your child attends school everyday.

AUGUST GUIDANCE LESSON

During the first month of school I like to introduce school counseling to kindergarten and new students. The idea is to teach them what a school counselor does. We will also teach behavior expectations while in my classroom and reiterate school-wide expectations.

PRACTICAL TIPS

Ask your child about their day everyday. This tells your child you care and that school is important. Please reach out to me if you have any concerns for your child's well-being and/or mental health.
