

LET'S TALK ABOUT:

EVALUATE

Dad: What is a choice you have to make everyday?

Child: What is a situation coming up you will have to evaluate to make a decision?

For both: When was a time where you made a decision too quickly?

HUDDLE UP:

Gather with your family tonight and talk about a big decision you have coming up. Maybe it's the destination for your next vacation or what the next home project will be. Let everyone in your family speak into the decision and evaluate what you should do together.

PRO TIP:

Be in tune with the decisions that your kids are making on a regular basis and let them know about the decisions you make as well. This will spark fun conversation and a deeper appreciation for each other.
