ADAPT TO CHANGES

CHANGES TO ASSIGNMENTS

Substitute teachers should be aware of the following regarding potential changes to their assignments:

1 Flexibility Required: Substitute teachers may be asked to cover classes outside of their specific background or training. Being flexible to different subjects and grade levels is essential.

2 Coverage During Planning Periods: Substitutes may be required to cover classes during the regular teacher's planning periods. This could involve stepping into various roles as needed.

3 Last-Minute Changes: Upon arrival, substitutes might find that the assignment has changed (e.g., from a science class to a music class). It's important to remain flexible and ready to adapt to these changes.

4 Communication: Clear communication with school staff can help clarify expectations and any last-minute adjustments.

5 Positive Attitude: Approaching these changes with a positive attitude contributes to a supportive school environment and demonstrates professionalism.

By embracing flexibility, substitute teachers play a vital role in meeting the dynamic needs of the school.

CANCELLATION OF ASSIGNMENTS

Substitute teachers should follow these guidelines regarding cancellation of assignments:

Accidents In/On School Property

In the event of an accident occurring in the classroom or on school property, follow these guidelines:

1. Do Not Move an Injured Student: If a student is unable to move on their own, do not attempt to move them. This could cause further injury.
2. Get Help: Contact the nurse or front office immediately. Send a reliable student to a neighboring classroom, or to the front office to request assistance. Make sure to provide clear instructions to the student.
3. Stay with the Injured Student: Remain with the injured student until help arrives. Offer reassurance and keep them calm while waiting for assistance.
4. Avoid Exposure to Blood: In cases where there is a risk of exposure to blood or other potentially infectious materials, take precautions to avoid exposure. Do not attempt to clean up any blood spills.
5. Notify the Nurse or Administrator: Inform the school nurse and the principal or designated administrator about the incident immediately. They will provide the necessary support and follow-up.
6. Document the Incident: After the situation has been handled, document the details of the accident, including what happened, the time, the individuals involved, and any actions taken.

By adhering to these procedures, you can ensure the safety and well-being of students and yourself during an emergency.

Student Illness

If a student says they're not feeling well or needs a band-aid, simply send them to the nurse's office with a nurse pass. The nurse is equipped with the necessary supplies and expertise to assess and provide care for any health concerns. Remember, it's important not to administer any medication or treatments yourself; refer all health-related issues to the nurse to ensure student safety and compliance with school policies.

During the Day

Responsibility for Student Conduct: The substitute is responsible for managing the conduct of students in the assigned classes. If special issues arise, substitutes should seek assistance from school staff by calling the office or using the emergency button in the classroom.

Follow the Lesson Plan: Stick to the provided lesson plan as closely as possible without making changes.

Continuous Student Supervision: Students must always be supervised.

Never leave students unattended in a classroom under any circumstances.

Active Student Monitoring

- Move Around the Classroom: Actively monitor students by walking around the classroom. This allows you to observe their progress and ensure they stay on task.
- Provide Assistance: Be available to help students who may need assistance with their assignments.
- Avoid Personal Activities: Constantly sitting at the desk, reading personal material, and using your cell phone during class time are not acceptable.
- No Personal Items During Work: Keep personal items, including cell phones, put away while working. Maintain focus on supervising and always engaging with students.

Confidentiality Expectations

Substitutes are expected to maintain confidentiality regarding any information about the school, students, parents, and staff that may be obtained while substituting. Protecting the privacy of all individuals is essential to maintaining trust and a professional atmosphere in the school setting

Addressing Concerns

Any concerns that arise during your substitute teaching experience should be addressed through the appropriate administrative channels. If you encounter issues related to students, staff, or school procedures, communicate them to the front office or a building administrator. Following the correct process ensures that concerns are handled efficiently and professionally.

End of the Assignment

- Leave the Classroom in Order: Ensure that the classroom is tidy and organized at the end of the day.
- Leave a Summary for the Teacher: Provide a summary of the day's activities, noting any important events or issues that the teacher should be aware of.
- Report to the Front Office: Check out with the front office before leaving the school for the day.

- Avoid making negative remarks about the teacher or their methods.
- Manufacturing, distributing, dispensing, possessing, or using alcohol, drugs, or other controlled substances, or being under their influence during working hours, at school, or during school-related activities is strictly prohibited.

Dress Code – Modern Business Casual

Modern business casual is a relaxed take on traditional business casual attire, suitable for office or school settings. It excludes formal business wear, offering a more flexible but still professional appearance. Examples of acceptable attire include, but are not limited to:

- Tops: Polo shirts, collared shirts, blouses, sweaters, and blazers.

All clothing should be well-fitted and modest in nature, ensuring a professional and polished look.

Classroom Management Tips for Substitute Teachers

1. Set the Tone Early: Begin the day by confidently introducing yourself and setting clear expectations for behavior. Let students know you expect them to follow the rules just like any other day.
2. Follow the Teacher's Plan: Stick closely to the lesson plan left by the teacher. Students are more likely to stay on task when they see that the routine remains the same.
3. Use the Class Rules: Reinforce the classroom rules that students are already familiar with. Consistency helps maintain order, as students understand what's expected of them.
4. Start with a Positive Connection: Greet students as they come in, introduce yourself, and show enthusiasm for the day's lesson. A positive start can set the right tone for the day.
5. Be Firm but Friendly: Assert your authority in a calm, respectful manner. Be firm with rules but maintain a friendly and approachable demeanor to keep students engaged.
6. Keep Students Busy: Avoid downtime, which can lead to disruptions. Stick to the schedule, and if you finish tasks early, have a backup activity like reading or educational games to keep students occupied.
7. Use Proximity Control: Move around the classroom to monitor students closely. Your presence alone can discourage misbehavior and keep students focused.
8. Provide Clear Instructions: Give simple, clear directions for tasks and activities. If necessary, write instructions on the board so students know exactly what is expected.
9. Engage Students with Activities: Involve students in interactive activities like reading aloud, group work, or answering questions to keep them interested and reduce disruptive behavior.
10. Stay Calm and Patient: If students test boundaries, remain calm. Showing frustration can escalate behavior issues. Handle situations with patience and consistency.
11. Acknowledge Good Behavior: Recognize and praise students who are following directions or showing good behavior. Positive reinforcement encourages others to do the same.
12. Ask for Help if Needed: Don't hesitate to ask nearby teachers or staff for help if a situation becomes too challenging. They are familiar with the students and can offer support.
13. By implementing these tips, you can create a structured and positive classroom environment, even as a substitute teacher.

Substitute Safety Protocol

Welcome to The Paulding County School District, we appreciate you being here and a part of our students' success. During arrival, dismissal, and class change, we expect our staff members to be visible and welcoming to our students. Ultimately, if you see something that looks out of place or is a potential concern "See Something, Say Something". Listed below you will find a description of our safety protocols and what to expect. If you have questions at any time, please ask any of our staff members or our administrators.

Things to know:
- Please make sure that your door is locked at all times.
- Each room has an emergency bag including what you would need in an emergency. Please review the contents of this bag to familiarize yourself with it.
- Each room has posted safety maps and a quick reference guide next to the primary entrance door. These maps indicate where you would relocate in case of a fire drill (primary and secondary routes), severe weather drill, or an emergency.
- The Paulding County School District utilizes the school safety solution, Centegix Crisis Alert. The Centegix Quick Reference Guide is attached to this protocol.

Fire, Severe Weather, Lockdown Drills/Actual Events:

The Paulding County School District routinely participates in school wide drills including severe weather, lockdown, and fire drills. The schools also have the option to utilize the Centegix system for all drills and emergencies.

CENTEGIX™
EVERY. SECOND. MATTERS.

EMERGENCY

Fire:

- Evacuate the building based on the school map evacuation routes posted by the door. Use the secondary routes if the primary route is unavailable. Take the red safety bag with you. Once you get to your evacuation location, take roll, and hold up the respective card given your class's situation.
- Red card: a student is missing or injured.
- Yellow card: additional students or information directly related to the incident is known.
- Green card: all students are accounted for.
- Example: if a student joined your class during evacuation, then you will indicate YELLOW. If a student is at the nurse's, in the library, in the bathroom, checking lost and found, etc., then you will indicate RED.

Severe Weather:

- Centegix: An intercom message will indicate if it is a severe weather drill or a tornado warning. The strobe in the classroom will be white if it is a drill. The strobe in the classroom will flash blue if it is a tornado warning.
- Non-Centegix Possibilities: the front office/administration can come over the intercom advising of the severe weather drill or tornado warning.
- Your severe weather location is labeled on the school map posted on the wall next to your primary door. Take your red safety bag with you, if applicable.

Lockdown:

- Centegix: An intercom message will indicate if it is a lockdown drill or an actual lockdown event. The strobe in the classroom will be white if it is a drill. The strobe in the classroom will flash red if it is a lockdown.
- Not using Centegix: the front office/administration can come over the intercom advising of the lockdown drill or lockdown.
- The door should be locked at ALL TIMES. We do not evacuate for other alarms during a lockdown unless otherwise directed. Turn off the lights and get away from doors and windows.
